

Doctors Line-Up for Battle--Soldiers To-Morrow. Football Derby Thanksgiving Day--Bowling

DOCTORS RATTLE AS DOCTORS CLASH

The To-Day Between Old and New Medical Schools Will Settle Tie—Both Teams Confident and Ready for Rip-Shorting Battle—Plan Celebration After Contest.

Entered as second prize in the contest between the old and new medical schools at Broad Street Park, beginning at 3 o'clock this afternoon, will convey the hundreds who will journey to the ball park.

Harris, who played such a good game for the old school at half in the last contest, will not be in the line-up today. For some reason or other he has quit the game. Captain Ross has been shifted to right half in Harris's place, and Carter will go in at quarter. Otherwise there is no change in the team.

HOME GUARDS PLAY REGULARS

President Taft Will See First Regiment Eleven Tackle Artillerymen.

With the President as an added attraction, the First Virginia Regiment football team will meet the strong eleven from the Artillery School at Fort Monroe tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock on the gridiron at Broad Street Park. It has not been definitely decided at what hour the President will drive through the park, but it will be during the progress of the game, and many will be attracted to the park in order to get a glimpse of the Chief Executive of the United States.

The Artillery School at the Virginia fort is a particular pet of the President, and he never misses an opportunity of showing his interest in the men who are learning the art of war. The team which will represent the regiment has had a remarkably successful season, despite the fact that football is something new with the men. Those who volunteered to try for the team have given unusually good practice, and have stood the test well. The result is that the eleven is fast and can give a good account of itself against its rivals.

In the games thus far played by the regiment the showing made has been most gratifying to those who have had the team in charge. While the team has met with some defeats, there has never been evidenced a desire to quit. To the contrary, when the odds were the greatest, the men fought the hardest, and it is this spirit which has won so many victories for the home guards. It is nothing new for the artillerymen to have a good team. The exception is for them to have a poor team. This year, as it has been for several years past, the men from the fort have a good aggregation of pickin' chasers. The team has been most successful in the past, and has met with few defeats, while winning against some mighty fast elevens.

However, the local warriors have great hopes of victory, and state that if the coast team wins there will be evidence that a battle has been fought.

SIGNS ON ROAD TO STAUNTON

Local Automobile Club Inspects Turnpikes and Makes Favorable Report.

The Richmond Automobile Club held a very important meeting at the Richmond Hotel last night, at which good roads formed the chief subject of discussion. The roads from here to Charlottesville and from here to New Market, and Old Point, were especially considered. The committee, of which Dr. H. W. Bassett is chairman, which had been appointed for the purpose of looking into the question of furnishing signs along the road from Richmond to Staunton, reported that the signs had been ordered and would be placed within a week.

These signs, in addition to pointing the way for the traveler, will also carry such road instruction as may prove of value. The men who went over the road from Richmond to New Market reported the road, with the exception of four or five miles, to be in excellent condition. It required just five and one-half hours to cover the distance. The same report was made as to the Charlottesville Turnpike.

Probably the most enjoyable feature of the meeting was the thirty-minute address made by George W. Bebout, superintendent of the Richmond Branch of the American Locomotive Company, on the various parts of the automobile. This talk begins a series of lectures on various subjects of interest to the automobilists to be made some of the most prominent men in the business in the country.

Sam T. Atkinson was elected director to represent the local club at the annual meeting of the American Automobile Association to be held in New York on December 1. The meeting was largely attended, and the members showed the greatest interest in the subjects under discussion.

Lee Morton, colored, heavily fined for attempting to assault Young White Woman. Lee Morton, colored, charged with being drunk and disorderly and attempting to assault Miss Lizzie Williams, was fined $50 and placed under $25 security for twelve months in the Police Court yesterday morning. The negro attempted to catch hold of Miss Williams as she was passing the corner of Seventh and Washington streets. Policeman Jones heard her cries for help, and after chasing the negro several blocks and hitting twice at him, caught him when he stumbled and fell.

The case against R. L. Tomlin and H. R. Jeter, white, held on suspicion of having stolen a quantity of copper wire from the Southern Bell Telephone Company, was continued to December 1.

CAROLINA REACHES ITS FINEST FORM

Star Players of Former Years Assist Coach Brides in Training Team for Its Great Struggle Against Virginia.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Chapel Hill, N. C., November 21.—From the fact that Georgetown overwhelmingly defeated Virginia, when two of Georgetown's best men, one of whom was Dunn, who plays half, and is said to be the best ground-gainer on the Southern gridiron this year, was absent from the game or account of injuries, and the further fact that Georgetown defeated Carolina by a smaller score with these two, their strongest men in the line-up, Carolina's prospects for defeating Virginia this year are thought to be exceedingly bright.

For the past week Head Coach Brides, assisted by Coaches Stewart, Trenchard, Cox and Simmons, has been putting the team through the hardest and most grinding work of the season, and the results of this thorough training are already apparent, as it has rounded into better form during the past week than it has ever previously shown this fall.

"Doggie" Trenchard has been a great aid in assisting Coach Brides in producing this great form. Carolina's eleven husky gridiron warriors have so suddenly taken on, in Trenchard's chief trait, as a coach, is in inspiring his men to greater courage, determination and fighting ability, and these elements he has certainly assisted Coach Brides in instilling into the team since his arrival on the Hill. The Carolina eleven is now imbued with a spirit which will fight to the last ditch, and merely contest every inch of Broad Street Park on Thanksgiving Day.

The ends are developing rapidly under the scientific coaching of Albert Cox, who was all-Southern end here in 1902, are getting down the field with Lightning-like speed under punts, and tackling with a fierceness seldom before seen on the local gridiron. Simmons, Davidson's coach, who was assistant football coach at Carolina in 1906, and who made a brilliant record at Davidson this year, in the capacity of coach of the football team, arrived on the Hill a few days ago, and with his thorough knowledge of the elements and principles of the game, is proving an invaluable aid to Head Coach Brides, in getting out of the men the best that there is in them. Coach Simmons, feeling the call of Carolina for assistant coaches to give better personal instruction to its men preparing for this, the supreme struggle with Virginia, left his law practice in Charlotte, and came up to the Hill to give Coach Brides his assistance in helping to round the team into the pink of condition.

So with the combined coaching ability of such men as Head Coach Brides, "Doggie" Trenchard, of Princeton, Stewart, Cox and Simmons focused on the team, which is now working as one man, and dandily contesting each afternoon every inch of ground with the scrubs, the possibility of Carolina's defeating Virginia in Richmond on Thanksgiving Day has become a decided probability, and a good sound one at that.

In the practice game with the University of South Carolina last Saturday in Durham, Carolina used straight plays, and the variety played only the first two quarters, the scrubs being scored on in the third quarter, by having a forward pass intercepted. Carolina did not try to pile up the score, which was 23 to 6 in its favor. Head Coach Brides reserving the varsity for the struggle with Virginia in Richmond.

Shafts From Sportland

By G. MALBERT

Have you aviated to-day? Latest thing in town: An aviation cocktail, guaranteed to make you fly high.

Look out for that game this afternoon. The outlook for yours. The game will likely be played without regard for either sidesmen or spectators. It will be for blood, and the positive result is the kind of a game against doctor. Remember that the Medical College and the University College played to a game the last time the two teams met, and this will be the rubber. Come out early and hear the rooting, then stay late and watch what will happen after somebody gets kicked.

Of all the nerve under the sun the brand mislaid and nurtured at Ann Arbor, which was in Michigan, and at which place the University of Michigan is located, tops the list. The Wolverines are not satisfied with having won the Western Association football championship, and are looking for the championship of the United States. The one redeeming feature of the claim is the assertion that it is expected few of the experts will concede the claim.

President Taft's drive through the ball park on Wednesday when the First Virginia Regiment football team tackled the strong bunch of warriors from Fort Monroe will give the soldiers a chance to show that they have not forgotten their military training. Watch the players clasp their beads together and come to attention as the head of the army drives by. Bet that a chance to make a touchdown would not stop them.

Two double sawbats against a Chinese. That somebody is going to be surprised on Thanksgiving Day when Virginia and Carolina meet in the Southern football Derby. Never knew it to fall that as the day for the great game approached Carolina began to boom much stronger than at any other time during the season. It is a habit those Carolinians have. The fighting spirit down there is never fully aroused until the big orange "V" shows up. It seems to act like a red flag to a bull. Not long since it looked as if Virginia would have a walk over. Now it is pretty certain that the contest will be hard fought and that Carolina has a chance to win.

Brides has drilled into his men the fighting spirit, while not forgetting to tell them something about football. The return of a great number of former Chapel Hill stars has also lent courage to the home guards. Few chances were taken in the game with South Carolina, and the team will arrive here in perfect condition. Not a single man will be suffering from any injury.

Put this in your hat and then let it sink down there in the game on Thanksgiving Day. It is going to be a close fight. Both teams are keyed to the highest pitch. Both teams want to win. Neither team has a very visible record for the season, and winning this game will act as a sort of balm for the college spirit which has been dampened somewhat. It will be a long pull and a hard haul, and a pull altogether, and the best team is going to win.

Harvard has the strongest team in years. The same experts likewise agree that Yale is far weaker than in years. Then the weakest team Yale has had in years holds the strongest team Harvard has had in years to a no-score game. It is a pleasure to note that Chief Coach Haughton, of Harvard, does not attribute the result to luck. Wisely and in the manner of a good and thorough sportsman he says that the result simply proved that a strong offensive machine can be stopped with the right kind of coaching. In this opinion he is upheld by his assistants.

Reggie Brown, considered the strategist of the coaching department, declares that the fumble is not luck, but poor football. And he's right. Summing it all up and then looking at the ensemble you will come to the conclusion that you have got to take your hat off to Yale. Call it pluck, grit, nerve or spirit, Yale has got it. This was demonstrated in the Princeton game, and Harvard has had occasion to find it out on more than one occasion. But what's worrying me is how the experts are now going to place the teams.

Don't forget that Randolph-Macon has a dress rehearsal on Saturday at the ball park. Richmond College will be the stage director, and the stage director says that everything must be right or there will be another performance. All of which is to say that Richmond College expects to trim the Yellow Jackets and thereby keep them out of the Eastern Virginia football championship. The Splinters have been a little shy on this season, and they are now ready to take on a diet of Yellow Jackets as the demi-tasse of the football menu.

Should the Navy succeed in winning from the Army on Saturday it will mean that the two schools will be tied in the number of games won from each other. The Army up to this year has won seven and the Navy six, while one game resulted in a tie. The Sailors say that they will even up things. Both teams have played remarkable football this season, and the game will be a dandy.

Experts have arrived to look over the State Fair grounds in order to remove any possible obstructions in the path of the sky-men. It is rumored that the little birds and other things that occupy the air will be given moving room. Also some folks put Richmond in the class with all metropolitan cities. Growing town, this Richmond city, and it's going to grow some more. Watch it.

It is expected that as many as 60,000 people will catch the flights. The crowd will be the best men in the business doing the flying in some of the best and fastest machines yet made there will be no excuse for people hereabouts not patronizing the show.

Nelson in Great Shape.—Tim in great shape. Nelson, the champion, to whom Ryan to-day, in asking the retired middleweight champion to be his chief second against Owen Moran on Saturday next, has declined. Ryan declined, as he has charge of a club which holds bouts here next Monday night.

CATARH

A SPECIFIC BLOOD IMPURITY

Catarh is a deep-seated blood disease, one which no amount of local treatment will ever permanently cure. The beneficial effects of washes, sprays, inhalations, etc., are only temporary, and when left off the old condition returns, because the blood is infected with catarrhal matter and impurities. This impure condition of the circulation irritates and inflames the delicate mucous membranes and tissues and produces the well known symptoms of ringing noises in the head and ears, mucus in the throat, headaches, watery eyes, partial deafness, sore throat, general impairment of health, etc. This condition will remain, growing worse as long as the catarrhal matter is allowed to remain in the blood. Being a specific blood impurity, there is only one way to cure Catarh, and that is to purify the blood. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It attacks the disease at its head—in the circulation—and by thoroughly renovating the blood and cleansing it of all impure matter, makes a permanent and lasting cure of the disease. For forty years S. S. S. has been recognized as the best blood purifier, and the thousands of cases of Catarh it has cured is proof that it is the very medicine needed by those who suffer with this trouble. Book on Catarh and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

DANIEL IS LAUDED IN RESOLUTIONS

Paper Made Part of Supreme Court Record—Proceedings of Yesterday.

Resolutions eulogistic of the life and works of the late Senator John W. Daniel were presented by the bar to the Supreme Court of Appeals at its session yesterday. The resolutions were read, and by order of the court, were made part of the record.

Court will not sit on Thanksgiving Day, but it is not as yet known whether its decisions will be handed down tomorrow or Saturday, or whether all opinions will be deferred until next week.

Yesterday's proceedings were as follows: Southern Railway vs. Foster's administrator. Argued by William Leitch for the plaintiff in error, and by B. H. Custer for the defendant in error, and submitted.

Holdsforth vs. C. W. Crowder and Brother. Argued by H. R. Pollard and George Wayne Anderson for the plaintiff in error, and by J. H. Bailey for the defendant in error, and submitted.

Norfolk and Western Railway vs. Stone. Partly argued by George S. Bernard for the plaintiff in error, and continued.

H. S. Watkins and Company, et al. vs. Camp Manufacturing Company, et al. vs. Southern Railway Company, et al. vs. Beales et al.; city of Richmond vs. Model Steam Laundry; Aspregen and Company vs. Wallerstein Produce Company, and Richardson vs. the J. S. Hoskins Lumber Company, begun numbers 11 to 17 on argument docket.

PLANS FOR NEW BRIDGE

Mr. Bolling Presents Designs for Reinforced Concrete Structure.

An extended session of a subcommittee from the Council Committee on Streets was held yesterday afternoon for preliminary plans for the new free bridge to take the place of Mayo's Bridge. City Engineer Bolling presented several preliminary drawings showing his general idea of the kind of bridge he had in mind. The drawings showed a concrete structure of ample dimensions and strength. As soon as the subcommittee reports on the preliminary plans, dimensions, height above high water, and general requirements, the Committee on Streets will invite proposals from engineering and constructing firms all over the country, the bidders to submit estimates for delivering the bridge complete on their own detailed plans and specifications, merely conforming to the general requirements laid down for all bidders.

CONSISTENT WORK BY MEAT PACKERS

Beef Slaughterers Take Jewelers Into Camp in Bowling Tournament, Winning Two Out of Three Games—Application for Membership Turned Down.

After lengthy discussion, the Richmond Bowling Association decided to reject the application of two additional teams from the American Locomotive Company for membership. It was brought out that to allow new members would necessitate an entire change of the present schedule and would entail much trouble. The league, as formed, is getting along handsomely, and it was thought more desirable to have a rival league than to make the present one too cumbersome.

The Jewelers and the Meat Packers played three games last night at the Newport Alleys, and to the surprise of every one, the Jewelers won handsomely, taking two out of the three games from Spilling's men. The Jewelers have been looked upon as having the strongest five in the organization, and their defeat last night was greeted with cheers by the assembled representatives of the other teams making the race for The Times-Dispatch silver loving cup.

Meat Packers Roll Consistently.

The feature of the games last night was the consistent rolling of the Meat Packers, who piled up a total of 2,395 pins as against their opponents 2,321. Goodwin, captain of the Packers, carried off the honors, both for high individual score and high total. He rolled a total of 512, and made the high score of 195. Spilling, captain of the Jewelers, was next in high total score, getting 521.

The race is indeed getting warm, and as the teams get closer together the interest increases. By this time next week it is expected that the fives will be so bunched that there will be little choice between them.

On Wednesday night The Times-Dispatch team meets the American Locomotive bunch, and a good series of games may be expected. On Thanksgiving night The Times-Dispatch will meet the strong Blackstone team, having accepted a challenge from the southside men.

Prospects for another league are brightening each day, and the probabilities are that the new organization will be in existence before the week is out. If this happens, then games will be arranged between the two leagues, and also between the teams of each league. All fear that bowling will prove a dead letter in Richmond has been dissipated. The trouble now seems to be that there are
